

We are happy to fund, manage and sponsor 3-4 scientific forums per year to expedite research programs within our scientific community. Please complete the application below and submit to dcurry@biomere.com for consideration of support.

Rules:

Your forum must be complete within one day with an expense capped at $10,000. You may choose support of a meeting within a larger scientific conference, such as a workshop as well. The content must be valuable to the larger research community. You are responsible for title, content, speakers and moderation of your program. The Biomere conference manager will support your scientific lead to develop and deliver the event. Biomere respectfully requests that we are the only commercial CRO included and would like the option to send an attendee.

Abstract: Please submit an abstract supporting the goals of your forum

Scientific Lead:

Please name the person(s) responsible for building the scientific content of your forum as well as their contact information. Our meeting planner will support your lead(s) to ensure your meeting is supported logistically, promoted and delivered well. She has over 30 years of conference experience, which leaves you free to focus on the science supporting your forum.

Proposed Speakers:

Please list your speakers, affiliations and credentials as well as the titles of their respective presentations. Each title should be accompanied by a short overview of presentation content.

White Papers/Posters:

Do we have permission to produce a white paper resulting from the proceedings for you? We will provide an independent scientific writer to compile and you would approve final copy and own the rights to the piece. YES / NO

Do we have permission to post resulting posters or scientific materials on our website? The materials will be posted in the "Biomere Forum Support" area of our site to share the value of the meeting with others. YES / NO

Choosing "NO" will not affect approval of your meeting. We are passionate in deriving the most value for your efforts. This is one vehicle of support. Please feel free to suggest other supportive vehicles.

Biomere Involvement:

We will provide a professional conference manager to support your efforts in developing, promoting and delivering your meeting. The administrative details will be taken care of for you, including registration. Our planner will also support your efforts on site by manning the registration table and assuring all arrangements with venue / AV run smoothly. We will be the official sponsor of your meeting and will post our logo on materials produced for you as such. We will also post the meeting on our website. The registration process will also be hosted on our website.

If my meeting is selected, what happens next?

We will officially alert your scientific lead(s) and our conference manager will schedule a meeting to discuss your goals, requirements and a date. You can count on the personal support you need to develop and deliver your meeting in addition to supporting funds. The meeting belongs to you.

Why is Biomere offering this program?

“If you don’t love what you do, you won’t do it with much conviction or passion.”

Mia Hamm

Our commitment to your research journey is driven by the passion we share every day in what we do. Providing platforms to discuss and further research ultimately leads to expediting cures and treatment. At the end of the day, this is what drives us all.

Questions?

Contact dcurry@biomere.com and type “BIOMERE FORUM SUPPORT QUESTION” in the subject line of your e-mail. Your e-mail will be addressed by Deborah Curry, our professional conference manager.

We are excited about this new program and look forward to supporting 3-4 successful forums in 2020.

Best Regards,

Your Biomere Team
